Our City comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

A Vote at the Last Hour Is As Good as at the First Minute

IF you have not yet voted, why not do it now? You still have time for the polls are open until 7 o'clock tonight.

Up to the time of going to press, a very light vote had been cast, only a little over 10 percent of the number of registered voters. The rain, of course, had an effect on the early vote, so the vote tonight, should be comparatively heavier.

HAVE you been out on West Patterson avenue lately? If not, a surprise awaits you, for out of a sand heap, a beautiful park is being formed. On your next ride, go out that way and see the wonderful change which has been made in the old Patterson avenue park.

The Glendale Park Commissioners are to be commended on the excellent work they have accomplished.

MORAL WAVE IN BELFAST ASCRIBED TO EVANGELIST

[By Associated Press]

BELFAST, April 10.—This city is becoming so moral that one wonders if a policeman will be sure of a job in the future, says the Evening News correspondent, who records that: "Petty thieving is on the decline. Many employers have received back stolen goods. Dozens of bags of tools 'borrowed' from shipyards have been returned. A grocer was paid £5 that a woman customer had owed him for 20 years. For over an hour an ex-sailor tried to persuade the local pensions staff that he was not entitled to a weekly disablement grant he had been drawing."

All this moral "uplift" is ascribed to the great religious revival conducted by Pastor Nicholson, who is escorted everywhere by a band of 70 chosen from his thousands of converts. It is necessary to go to church two hours before time to hear him preach, and men forego their supper and march direct from their shipyard work in the evening to listen to him.

SANDERS TO SPEAK AT BELL C. OF C.

Secretary Sanders of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce is to speak tonight at a meeting of the recently organized Bell Chamber of Commerce, which already has a membership of 303.

The secretary has also been asked to address the Banning chamber but will probably not be able to do so.

AERIAL POLICE OFFICER IS APPOINTED BY CHIEF

W. B. Kinner, an airplane manufacturer and aviator, has been afforded the honor of being the first aerial police officer appointed by the Glendale police department. He was given his badge this morning.

RAINFALL FILLS GUTTERS EARLY TODAY

Total of 2.27 Inches for Month Is Reached at 7 o'Clock

Glendale waked to a wonderful morning today with every gutter a brook, and every blade of grass freighted with all it could carry of rain drops. Pools which mirrored the blue of the sky filled all the depressions in the roadways and the air was sweet with the fragrance of fruit blossoms.

T. W. Preston of North Jackson reported a catch by his rain gauge up to 7 o'clock of .82 of an inch, bringing the rainfall for April to 2.27 inches. The total for the season is now 12.53 against 27.59 inches last year at this time.

H. E. Bartlett says he thinks the recent rains must have penetrated to a depth of two feet and that they will be worth millions of dollars to Southern California in the good they will do pastures and grain fields, not to speak of their value to orchards and field crops.

DAYLIGHT BURGLAR CAPTURED

Patrolman La Rock Arrests Bay City Crook After Long Chase

LOOT IS IDENTIFIED

Officer Commandeers Passing Auto in Pursuit of the Thief

Harry Webster, an alleged daylight burglar from San Francisco, was captured by Officer La Rock at the corner of Palmer and Brand at 1:30 yesterday afternoon, following the alleged robbery by Webster of the home of William A Gibson, 518 East Windsor. The capture was made at the point of a revolver after an exciting chase, in which Officer La Rock used an automobile belonging to Jessie Birdsall of Lynwood, who was passing through Glendale. Webster's suitcase, containing articles identified by Gibson, according to the police, was recovered.

Immediately upon the report of the robbery to the police, Officer La Rock was detailed. He succeeded in learning the direction in which Webster had disappeared. Securing the Birdsall machine the officer trailed the alleged robber to Palmer and Brand.

Immediately after the arrest, Webster was taken to the police station and at 3 o'clock was taken to Pasadena for photograph and fingerprint work. Later in the afternoon he was taken to the Los Angeles jail.

ART ASSOCIATION BEGINS WORK OF EDUCATION

Wide Distribution of Paintings and Other Creations Is on

The Glendale Art Association is taking its work very seriously and appears to be animated by the true missionary spirit.

Mrs. Roy Ballagh, its president, states that this is art week in Glendale and the association, with the help of the merchants, is putting on a widely distributed exhibit of paintings, sculpture and miniatures. These will be placed in store windows on Brand from Wilson to Harvard, and all will bear numbers and the names of the artists. A voting box has been placed in the drug store in the Jensen building on North Brand and the public is requested to cast ballots for the works of art they like best. All are by Glendale artists.

Mrs. Ballagh says it is the desire of the association to make Glendalians acquainted with the productions of its own artists and to encourage a study of their work. They will be on display for one week, or until next Monday.

The regular meeting of the association will be held next Sunday afternoon in the juvenile room of the public library on Harvard from 4 to 5, and in connection there will be an exhibit of pictures by American and European artists from the collection of Mrs. Julia Nichols of this city.

At the meeting there will be talks by the local artists, Mr. Cotton and Mr. Cheever. It is the aim of the organization, Mrs. Ballagh says, to make these Sunday afternoons in some measure study sections in which the points of excellence in American art will be discussed.

The public is invited to the exhibit and the talks and the pictures will be on display for two weeks.

RAINBOW BALLET TO BE GIVEN AT FUN REVUE

Pretty Glendale Girls in Flowing Gowns to Take Part

One of the most beautiful specialties at the forthcoming Fun Revue will be a rainbow song and ballet. Six of Glendale's prettiest girls, gowned in flowing costumes of rainbow colors, with rainbow headpieces, will represent the rainbow in charming dance formations. The rainbow song is dedicated to the Rainbow division, and was first produced at the Los Angeles Philharmonic several weeks ago. A snappy number will be given by eight peppy girls who will feature a song composed and written by the director, Nanno Woods, entitled "Fish, Fish, Fish." This will prove a drawing card to anglers and tired business men who love to follow the advice of "get into your oldest clothes and "fish, fish, fish."

"Barney Google," the very latest of popular songs will be rendered by A. E. McCoubrey. This song lends itself easily to parody verses, and two handsome prizes have been offered for the best of such verses. Here is a sample verse:

Barney Google with his goo-goo-googly eyes,
Barney Google is the luckiest of guys;
If he fell into the mud,
He'd come out with a diamond stud;
Barney Google with his goo-goo-googly eyes.

Parody contest is open to everybody. Send in verses at once to Glendale Community Players, care of the Glendale local papers.

Prize winners will be declared at the musical comedy shows to be given the evenings of April 19 and 20, in the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium for the benefit of the Glendale American Legion building fund. Get your tickets now, as they are going fast.

Dudley, and also by Mr. Raymond McFeeters, pianist of the quartet, who will contribute a solo number.

SUGAR REACHES NEW HIGH COST IN NEW YORK

Highest Price Since 1920 Is Reached; Laid to Cuban Situation

[By Associated Press]

NEW YORK, April 10.—The highest price paid for raw sugar to be recorded here since the high levels of 1920 was touched today, 5 7-8 cents, cost and freight.

The continued closing down of centrals in Cuba, showing an outturn below executions, appeared to revive apprehension of a shortage in supplies. A better inquiry was also reported for refined sugar, accompanied by renewed buying of Cuban raws by European and Canadian interests. This brought the domestic refineries into the market and a considerable business was reported.

SMALL VOTE IS CAST DURING EARLY HOURS DUE TO THE WEATHER

With Sunshine Voters Emerge From Homes and Go to the Polls; Many Are Confused in the Change in Precinct Numbers

NUMBER SIX IS LOST TEMPORARILY

Heavy Vote Is Expected in Late Afternoon When Men and Women Return From Their Places of Employment

After the sun made its appearance things began to liven up at the election polls. Up until noon the votes cast at the following polling places which have registration lists of between 800 and 900 voters:

	Votes
No. 14, 431 W. Maple	55
No. 10, 137 S. Columbus	61
No. 9, 221 N. Louise	72
No. 12, 1233 E. Colorado	58
No. 11, 308 E. Colorado	76
No. 6, N. Isabel (up to 11:30)	50
No. 4, 360 W. California	99
No. 5, 546 N. Maryland	117

The heavy vote is expected to come in during the afternoon, which is the most convenient time for the housewives, and towards closing time, when the business men will poll their votes.

At precinct No. 8, the polling place at 1471 East California, 60 votes were cast up to 12:30 out of about 200 registered voters, and all the ballot propositions seemed to be considered by the electors.

Up to noon 48 votes had been cast at Precinct No. 16, the polling place being fire station No. 2 at Los Feliz and Brand. The voters appeared to be marking their ballots for the charter amendments and special propositions, and they were about equally divided between men and women. The total vote of that precinct should be in the neighborhood of 700.

Casa Verdugo, which is outside the city proper, is voting only for school trustees on which there is no contest and up to noon two votes had been cast out of a total of registered voters of 300. The polling place is 1209 N. Central avenue.

At precinct No. 3 which voted in Parker's grocery store at Doran and Columbus, 87 votes had been cast up to noon. Voters, it was said, were taking plenty of time in the booths and it was surmised that they were voting on all the special propositions and charter amendments. The registered voto there is between 1200 and 1400.

In precinct No. 13, the polling place being at the home of G. H. Scott, 720 South Glendale avenue, 59 votes were cast up to noon out of a registration of about 700.

No. 1, 1140 Glenwood road, 30 votes.

No. 2, 1541 Ardmore avenue, 43 out of about 500. Indications are that most of the propositions are carrying, particularly No. 8.

In precinct No. 15, 56 votes had been cast up to 12:30, out of a total of 800 registered voters. Voters ware expressing themselves on the special propositions and amendments as well as candidates.

In some of the precincts less than one per cent of the registered voters had cast their ballots up to noon. In some cases the voting rose to 10 per cent, while in others there was greater activity.

The changing of the polling places in the consolidation of 26 precincts into 16, was largely responsible, in a measure, for the light vote. Many of the voters did not know where to go to cast ballots.

Trouble was experienced by some of the voters in precinct No. 6. According to the published report the polling place in this precinct was at 600 North Howard, when in reality it is at 600 North Isabel—at the corner of Isabel and Doran.

With streets flooded, gutters swimming and a steady, heavy downpour over the city, the opening of the polls was marked by an absence of voters. Officials in raincoats shivered in the polling places, awaiting the will of the people to appear in the form of ballots.

For the first hour, at the 16 places, there was scarcely any votes cast.

Then, as the sun strove to break through, the first thin trickle of citizens began to appear.

By 8 o'clock the vote steadily increased but it was not anywhere near normal.

Nine o'clock found candidates and their backers working hard to get their votes to the polls. Yet an hour later not more than a few hundred votes had been recorded. Apparently the election arder was rainsoaked.

The turn of the weather along about that hour gradually drew the housekeepers from their work and the women began to appear. There was no delay anywhere. That the women were making a close scrutiny of the ballot and marking it with care was indicated by the slowness of the voting. By 11 o'clock it was evident that the election would be decided by the women of the city, and their responsibility was correspondingly increased.

From then on to noon, men began to appear, local business men of Glendale and the voting swung toward the normal.

In the early report of the precincts, it was found Precinct No. 5, neighbors of Asa Hall, exceeded all others in voting.

Considerable difficulty was found in locating polling places owing to the arbitrary division of the city and method of absorbing the county designations. While a division is indicated No. 8, there is no No. 8 shown on the list. What was indicated as polling place for Nos. 7 and 9 under the arbitrary No. 3 was really county designation Nos. 7 and 8.

POLLS WILL CLOSE TONIGHT AT 7 P. M.

Unless more votes are received between noon and the closing of the polls, at 7 o'clock this evening, the total vote cast will be but a meager showing of the total registration of Glendale.

The rain of the early morning stopped the voting in the forenoon. After 1 o'clock rain began to fall and slowed up the vote with less than 10 per cent cast.

NIGHT SCHOOL ENROLLMENT INCREASES

Reaches 950 During the Last Month; Room for Many

Within the past month sixty-two new students have enrolled in the night school bringing the total enrollment to 950.

Principal A. L. Ferguson says that contrary to the common impression, now is a good time to enroll as a number of the classes are not as full as they were at the beginning of the year. The attendance is keping up exceptionally well, better than in the majority of night schools.

The men's gym classes, Mr. Ferguson says, are planning some special spring work. The evening class already has an organized team in indoor baseball which is ready to accept challenges from any of the indoor teams of the city.

City officials have been looking the grounds over to determine the location of lights which are soon to be installed for the illumination of the tennis courts and athletic fields so that evening outdoor games in baseball and tennis can be played. As soon as this comes about a large enrollment for those classes is expected.

There is room now in the auto-shop class which meets Tuesday and Thursday evenings and anyone wishing to get intimately acquainted with the inner consciousness of his car can now have a chance.

Next year, Mr. Ferguson says, a theory course in care, construction and repair of autos will be provided for women.

Splendid work is being done in architectural drawing of which Mr. Wilson has charge. Results in the way of constructive drawings by students are now beginning to be displayed. There is room in this department for new students.

There is also a chance for entrance in shorthand and typewriting classes, and in the class for the study of investments under Mr. Webb, which meets Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Announcement of the new class in Spanish for Monday and Wednesday evenings brought a fine enrollment Monday which will probably be swelled by more students Wednesday night.

TURKS RATIFY U. S. RAILWAY CONCESSION

Chester Concession, Secured by American Admiral, Is Approved

[By Associated Press]

ANGORA, April 10.—The Turkish nationalist assembly has ratified the so-called Chester railway and mining concession.

Negotiations for the "Chester Concession" in Turkey, which includes the development of the Mosul oil region and the construction of 1200 miles of railroad in Mesopatam fields, was first instituted by President Roosevelt. It takes its name from Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, retired, who was sent to Turkey in 1908 to obtain for United States interests certain property rights in the oil producing district.

The Turkish government some time ago approved the grant, but action by the nationalist government at Angora has been awaited.

American capital would be used under the agreement to extend the Bagdad railway to the borders of Persia, while rail connections would be afforded to the chief cities of Turkey. The Mosul oil field has been a bone of contention between Great Britain and the United States for some time and at the Lausanne conference the British delegation was especially insistent that its claim to the territory be recognized.

Those now in jail at Redondo are Harry Hughes, Martin Gustafson, David Gustafson, Bryan Hatherell and Elbert Norton, all 18 years of age, and members of the senior class at the Inglewood high school. Because of lack of jail facilities at Inglewood the five are still confined in the Redondo jail.

BAY CITY AUTOIST KILLED AT SAN DIEGO

[By Associated Press]

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 10.—A man identified as Dr. P. S. Niles, residing at the Stewart hotel, San Francisco, was killed late last night at San Onofre, on the coast highway near the boundary of San Diego and Orange counties, when his large automobile crashed through a fence and plunged down a steep grade for nearly 200 feet. A man, who was driving the machine, was reported as badly hurt and a woman who was also in the car, was reported to have escaped with slight injuries.

"DR. NILES" UNKNOWN IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—The management of the Stewart hotel here suggested that the man known as Dr. P. S. Niles who was killed in an automobile accident near San Diego last night may be P. L. Niles, a coast representative for the McLaren Rubber company of Charlotte, N. C., who stopped at the hotel frequently. Niles recently bought a big car here and announced that he was going to Los Angeles, where he made his headquarters at the Clark hotel.

No "Dr. Niles" is known to the hotel maangement.

Niles was due back in the hotel yesterday. He was 45 years old and during his frequent visits to the hotel registered from various towns in the state.

STINNESES ARE HELD UP BY FRENCH GUARDS

[By Associated Press]

DORTMUND, April 10.—Hugo Stinnes and his wife arrived in this city today after having been detained at Scharnhorst by French guards who took them from their berths in a night train. They were released after the officials had searched their baggage.

The sleeper in which Herr Stinnes and his wife were traveling was attached to the train from Berlin to Essen on which they had left Berlin last night on their way to Mulheim.

Scharnhorst is the first frontier station for the occupied zone and it was here that the magnate and his wife were routed out of their berths by the French guards who invaded the sleeper.

Herr Stinnes, who had just arrived in Berlin from his country home, took the night train for Muelheim, where his industries are located. When the train reached Scharnhorst, which is the first rail point under French control, four French railway guards entered the sleeper and demanded to know the number of the Stinnes compartment. They roused the industrialist and his wife and led them to the baggage car, where the couple were locked up.

This is Herr Stinnes' second trip to the Ruhr since the occupation. The French authorities are said to have been watching for him and his agents and only recently they intercepted one of his private couriers, seizing a private paper which the magnate was forwarding to his representatives in Muelheim.

CHARLES B. GUTHRIE ISSUES STATEMENT ON TRACT SALE

In reference to the sale of the Kenneth Grant tract Saturday and Sunday, when the entire tract was sold in two days, I desire to give credit where credit is due.

Especial credit is due Hayward & McCartney, whose loyal support aided materially in consummating the sale. Their straightforward and clean methods and prompt and ready assistance rendered the task easier, and without their help the sale would not have been such a success.

There was no fighting, crowding or bitterness, except in the case of one or two disappointed buyers, who were not able to secure lots.

On the whole the sale demonstrated the insistent and steady demand for high class homesites in a district having a great future.

While some purchased for speculation the majority of sales were made by people who expect to improve the property immediately. None of the lots were sold for less than one-fourth cash.

OBREGON TO MAKE A DRY MEXICO

By FREDERICK G. NEUMEIER
United Press Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY, Mexico (by mail to United Press).—The Mexican border is going to lose that part of its population known as thirsty, if plans of the Obregon government are carried out.

A draft of a law is being prepared which will make a dry zone along the border 50 miles deep.

President Obregon has taken a strong stand against booze and dope along the border and is personally advocating the "dry zone."

"I am personally interested in seeing that these degrading vices are eliminated," he stated recently to the press.

The establishment of a "dry zone" at the border was agitated at the time of President Carranza, but not much progress made.

President Obregon is of the opinion that such a zone is now necessary along the border, because of the vices imported from the United States and because, as he expresses it, "the frontier cities are rapidly becoming cesspools for American vices."

The government takes the stand that the practices along the border are not only hurting the dignity of the Mexican nation, but are also teaching Mexicans vices which in time would end in ruination for the border cities.

The establishment of the "dry zone," it is believed here, would make a great difference in affairs at Tijuana, where a race meet is conducted for one hundred days each year.

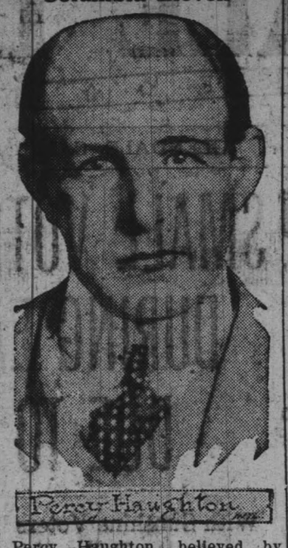
Haughton Will Coach Columbia Eleven



Percy Haughton, believed by many to be the greatest football coach in the world, who retired from coaching the Harvard eleven a few years ago to enter the brokerage business in Boston, has just announced that he will coach the Columbia University (New York City) eleven this year. No definite announcement has been made as to the salary he will receive, but it is believed to be more than $15,000 a year, and that he has signed up for a term of years.

"The Paramount picture, "The Glimpses of the Moon," featuring Bebe Daniels and Nita Naldi, is shown for the first time at the T. D. & L. tonight. This is one of the most interesting productions seen in Glendale in many a day.

"The power of wealth is the theme of this splendid picture. It tells of a young society girl who is dependent upon a woman friend to maintain her social standing. At the suggestion of this friend, she marries the man of her choice, who is none too well off himself. Then that friend makes known the price of her hospitality. What follows is a warning to all young married folks or those who are contemplating entering the state. A near separation suit is the result.

Bebe Daniels is one of society's "poor sisters" and Nita Naldi her friend. Other players prominent in the cast are David Powell, Maurice Costello, Rubye de Remer and Charles Gerrard. It is an Allan Dwan production adapted from the novel by Edith Wharton.

Cal. Development Association Out for State Credit

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—The California Development association, while believing that the state should adopt some method of representation that will guard against legislative power becoming centered in the hands of metropolitan areas, urges upon the legislature the necessity of complying with the existing mandate of the constitution in carrying out a reapportionment based on the last federal census.

The resolution commends to the legislature the present measure on reapportionment that is now pending, and petitions that on its passage a constitutional amendment be submitted to the people that will establish a procedure by which the interests of all sections may be adequately represented. The following is the resolution:

Whereas, the state constitution of California provides for legislative reapportionment based on population as shown by the federal census; and

Whereas, there is now before the state legislature a measure providing for such reapportionment based on the decennial census of 1920; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the California Development association, that it urge upon the legislature the importance of compliance with this mandate of the constitution without further delay; be it further

Resolved, that the California Development association take this occasion to record the belief that there is danger to the future welfare of the state in a legislative apportionment plan that might place a preponderance of legislative power in the hands of representatives from the great centers of population, thus depriving the other sections of the state of an effective voice in representative government; therefore, be it further

Resolved, that immediately following the reapportionment now made mandatory by the constitution, we strongly urge the presentation to the people of a constitutional amendment which shall establish a procedure by which the citizenship and the community interests of all sections of the state may be adequately represented.

NOTED SCHOLAR HERE FOR SUMMER

Dr. Black is president of the Boston Drama League and has achieved distinction in his book of Early Songs and Lyrics and his Shakespeare Manual for Teachers.

"Say, Uncle Jim, when I get bigger may I ride your horse?" asked four-year-old Ralph.

"Why, Ralph," replied the astonished uncle. "I haven't any horse."

"Then what did mamma mean when she said you had been riding your horse too much lately?" queried the little fellow.

UNIQUE EDIFICE IS CHRISTIAN ALLIANCE

Seats 1000 and Will Cost About $45,000 When Finished

A church edifice which is unique in more ways than one, and on which such progress is being made that its congregation expects to be occupying it by the first of July, is that of the Christian and Missionary Alliance which is going up rapidly at the corner of Louise and Chestnut.

It is of fire-proof construction, and of semi-hollow concrete bricks, made in Glendale by a concern on San Fernando road. The bricks measure 6 by 6 by 12 inches and make a wall about 13 inches thick, which it is claimed, is very resistant to both heat and cold.

These thick walls will give opportunity for properly recessed windows of opalescent glass, and on the outside will receive a heavy water-proof coating with a water-proof plaster on top of that, the inner walls also being plastered.

Three low steps afford entrance to the vestibule of the church on Chestnut. From this vestibule, which is surmounted by a tower, stairs lead to a basement which will be divided into two large rooms for men's and women's Bible classes. At the right and left of the vestibule inclines lead to the auditorium, the main floor of which is bowl shaped, with seats rising in the rear above the vestibule to a mezzanine floor about 12 feet wide at the rear which will overlook the auditorium and be divided into about four class rooms, with an additional class room in the tower.

Behind the pulpit at the south end of the church is a baptistry with a separate entrance on either side for men and women. On either side of the pulpit are to be two rooms about 15 feet square, one above the other. One of these four will be used for the pastor's study, the other three for Sunday school class rooms. There will also be available for Sunday school purposes the frame church in which the congregation has been worshiping, which has been moved onto the property and now adjoins the new building on the east, in the rear of the parsonage. This last mentioned building is an eight-room house which is being improved and enlarged for the use of the pastor, Rev. Chrisman, who came to Glendale from Spokane and has been serving the church since the first Sunday last September.

The roof of the new church is quite simple, following the lines of the steel arches which support it, and which, with the bowl-shaped auditorum floor, makes an almost egg-shaped interior which promises good accoustic properties.

Under present provisions it will seat about 1000, and so forehanded is the building committee of which J. Rhea Baker, the church treasurer, is a member, that it already has the opera chairs with which it is to be equipped, purchased and in storage in one of the double garages which have been built at the rear of the parsonage. These seats were specially made, the end ones bearing the monogram of the church.

Mr. Baker states that the building will cost in the neighborhood of $45,000, toward which $14,000 had been paid in cash before a beginning was made. Additional subscriptions of $10,723 have been made to be paid this year, and in addition Easter subscriptions totaling $10,407 were made for the foreign mission work for which this church is strong, also to be paid this year.

The church is now supporting Rev. Francis, who left for the Japan mission field, March 11.

It is the expectation that should the need arise, the church will build a wing to the east that will open into the present auditorium and seat about 400, removing the little old wooden church that now nestles against its big, strong brother.

This has been considered one of the poor churches of the community, not having begun to maintain Sunday services until a year ago in January. Its present activity and prosperity are but another evidence of the growth and increased wealth of Glendale during the past two years.

GLENDALIANS ARE INVITED TO THE COUNTY JAIL

Not to Stay, But to Examine Conditions and Handicaps There

Residents of Glendale are invited to the county jail! No, not to stay! Just for a visit.

The invitation also includes the county hospital, the county farm and Olive View Sanitarium for the tubercular.

This invitation, issued today by the officials in charge of the institutions, opens the way for voters of Los Angeles county to see for themselves the overcrowded conditions in all of these places, the handicaps under which officials and employees of the county are working and to be shown how additions to the buildings will help to overcome the congestion. A bond issue of $7,000,000 will be submitted to the voters on May 1 to finance the additions.

"We earnestly hope every voter avails himself or herself of this invitation," said Superintendent Norman R. Martin at the hospital. "We will show them a neat and clean hospital, and we will also show them beds placed end to end, with the ends touching; patients in the hallways; three rows of beds in wards instead of two, and these beds only 20 inches apart, and other crowded conditions that they will not believe possible until they see them."

Mr. Martin's invitation is heartily seconded by Superintendent William R. Harriman at the county farm, near Downey, officials at the county jail and officials at Olive View Sanitorium at San Fernando.

CITY PLAYERS ARE IN NEED OF GOOD VIOLINIST

The Glendale Community Players could use a good violinist in the forthcoming musical comedy, and at other times. Fine experience and lots of happy social opportunities amongst a bunch of congenial Glendale folks assured good amateur musicians. A couple of pretty girls or women could also have parts as extras if they apply at once to the director, Nanno Woods, phone Glendale 394, or call at 122 West Milford street.

Oh, Mister Gallagher, oh, Mister Gallagher!
What makes you look so happy, Mr. Shean?
Because the papers say Glendale's having Dollar Day,
And the finest bargains you have ever seen.
Why, Mister Shean, why Mister Shean,
I wonder could I get a good machine?
Jesse Smith has quite a show, so to him I guess I'll go.
Positively, Mister Gallagher!
Absolutely, Mister Shean!

UNIQUE ORCHESTRA MAKES HIT AT THE GLENDALE

"Jazzmania" and the Waring Pennsylvanians, the wonderful aggregation of college musicians, form the attractive bill at the Glendale Theatre again today.

The presentation of the Pennsylvanians is a distinct achievement on the part of Manager Howe of the Glendale Theatre. This orchestra is one of the leading attractions of the country. It comes to Glendale for this engagement without affecting the admission prices, although never before has it played where the admission was less than fifty cents.

The film "Jazzmania" stars Mae Murray and it reveals the dainty little woman in a role fitted to her personality. In its treatment of the jazz mania of the day the film preaches its lesson in a wholesome fashion.

Either the film showing or the Waring Pennsylvanians is worth more than the admission, a fact that is appreciated by those, who attended the performances Sunday and Monday.

The Pennsylvanians and the film are again showing tonight.

REAL PARTY IS HELD IN HIGH GYMNASIUM

Recreation Leaders and Friends Enjoy Auto Stunt

A real auto party was enjoyed by the members of the Recreation Leaders' club and their friends last night at the high school gymnasium. Despite the rain there was a large number present and a jolly evening enjoyed. The program was under the direction of Mrs. O. E. McDowell, president of the club. Various relay races, in which the popular cars were represented, were a feature of the evening. Other games included the changing of tires, filling of the radiator and putting up side curtains. In the latter game a picture of an automobile was fastened to the wall and the contestants were blindfolded. The one pinning the side cutains in the most correct position was the winner of the game. These and numerous other stunts carrying the auto idea were included in the evening's program.

The Recreation Leaders' club is to furnish leaders to conduct games at some of the neighborhood parties which will be a part of the Glendale program in celebration of National Play Week, April 2 to 28.

A community sing, under the direction of Glendale Community Service will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the high school auditorium. An interesting program has been arranged.

R. E. Tucker, executive secretary for Glendale Community Service, met at 7 o'clock last night with a committee from the Broadway P.-T. A. and Men's auxiliary and worked out plans for a big neighborhood party on Tuesday night of Play Week. The committee includes Mrs. Adell Wichert, R. M. Ferguson, Mrs. Mary Kane, Mrs. Emma Griffin and W. E. Dampf.

DISTRICT Y. M. C. A. HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The executive committee of the Glendale district Y. M. C. A. held its regular monthly meeting yesterday noon at the C. & S. cafeteria. At this session the following officers were elected for the year: David Black, chairman; C. D. Lusby, treasurer; Rex C. Kelley, secretary. Mr. Black has been chairman of the committee since the work was organized here four years ago.

Those present at yesterday's meeting included: David Black, C. W. Ingledue, H. R. Finlay, W. F. Tower, J. S. Thompson, C. D. Lusby, P. H. Arnold, all of Glendale; T. E. Stevenson and T. E. McGuire of Burbank; J. K. Gilkerson and Mr. Clapp of Glendale, and H. O. Hill, state Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Mr. Hill spoke to the men about the need of a Y. M. C. A. building in Glendale. He stated that this city is much larger than the minimum population for towns that had a building, and that although Glendale is doing splendid work with the younger boys this could be enlarged upon much more with the older boys and young men if there was a Y. M. C. A. building here. He also told of how money had been raised in Santa Ana and Pomona for buildings in the past year.

DELTA KAPPA NU FRATERNITY ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The members of the Delta Kappa Nu fraternity met last night at the home of Roy Mason on Windsor road and elected the following officers for the year: Gail Kennedy, president; Sabin Buck, vice-president; Orin Barnes, secretary; C. G. Farrow, Jr., treasurer; William Wiegand, advertising manager. Plans were discussed for a beach party to be held on April 28. During the evening the members listened in to a radio program and later refreshments were served by Mrs. Mason.

BAPTIST UNION WOMEN TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Women's Union of the First Baptist church will be held Thursday, April 12. The morning will be devoted to sewing for the White Cross. At 12:30 o'clock a covered dish luncheon will be served. The program will begin at 2 o'clock. As this will be the first meeting with the newly elected officers in charge it is desired that all members be present to show their loyalty.

1 ANNOUNCEMENTS

GLENDALE EMPLOYMENT AGENCY OPENS

Although open for only a week, the Glendale Employment Agency, under the management of A. Carroll, room 12, Rudy Bldg., 103 N. Brand, has already solved the employment problem of a number of Glendale business men by bringing them in touch with employes fitted for the work required. This agency does all the preliminary work of testing out those seeking employment, relieving the employer of the ordeal of examining a long line of applicants seeking the position.

Mr. Carroll points out one way in which the employer can facilitate the matter of securing the right kind of employe for his needs is to turn the entire matter over to his agency. For instance, when a business man comes to his agency for an employe he complicates the case by placing a card in the window, "Help Wanted."

When in need of an employe place your needs with the Glendale Employment Agency and you will see how simply it works.

FOWL GIZZARDS FOUND IN FISH

[By Associated Press]

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 5. White fish with gizzards, like fowl and a lake filled with gold fish are among the phenomena of the Kuskokwim river country, according to D. E. Stubbs, formerly United States mineral surveyor and fox farmer, who recently arrived here from the Kuskokwim.

Mr. Stubbs reports that in addition to oil seepages there are deposits of bituminous and anthracite coal in this vast region, which covers approximately 50,000 square miles.

"I wrote to the agriculture department asking if there was any bonus on specimens of fish with gizzards, and was informed that the species was unknown. There is a lake of crystal clearness on the old Kalmakosky-Nushagak trail, where it is possible to see 40 feet below the surface. The lake is filled with fish of irridescent color, identical with gold fish."

TRAPNEST RECORDS OF FLOCKS

Many commercial poultry producers undergo the heavy cost of replacing yearly a large part of their laying flock because they believe a hen will not lay profitably after one or two years. That this practice is largely unnecessary and an added expense is demonstrated by the trapnest records of the flocks at the poultry division of the Branch of the College of Agriculture at Davis.

Many hens in the station flock have made records averaging over 160 eggs annually for four or five years. Examination of the four-year records of 224 hens showed that over 95 percent of these hens yielded a profitable production every year.

Fowls which have laid profitably for one or two years are sent to the block because the poultry keeper believes them too old to lay enough to pay for their feed, when skill in culling would enable him to recognize the long distance layer and keep her. Careful breeding and good management will result in a flock containing large numbers of hens that should lay profitably for several years, and save the heavy expense of raising so much young stock each year. Members of the poultry staff will be glad to discuss this very important "dollars and cents" problem with poultrymen visiting the University farm on Picnic day, April 28.

GERMAN MAYOR IS UNDER COURTMARTIAL

[By Associated Press]

BERLIN, April 9.—A French courtmartial at Recklinghausen increased to three years the prison sentence imposed on Vice Lord Mayor Schaefer of Essen. His fine was increased six million marks.

Herr Schaefer was arrested in February in a charge of not supplying French troops with automobiles and coal.

OVERHEAD IRRIGATION

Will the overhead spray system of irrigation prove practical for intensive truck crops and flowers under California conditions? If successful, this type of irrigation would be a great boon to the backyard gardener and to growers of certain kinds of truck. Two systems of overhead irrigation are being tested this year by the divisions of truck crops and irrigation investigations at the University of California Agricultural Experiment station at Davis. An opportunity will be offered Picnic day visitors at the University farm, April 28, to inspect these systems under operation.

In the past, spray irrigation has failed because of the great loss of moisture by evaporation and the consequent crusting of the soil. However, two new ideas are now on trial to overcome these disadvantages. One plan is to apply the water entirely at night, using an automatic device to insure proper distribution of the water without personal attention from the gardener. Another scheme is to use the overhead irrigation in connection with a light mulch of straw over the surface of the soil, to prevent the rapid evaporation of the moisture and to prevent the crusting of the soil. These devices are being tried on crops of beans, peppers and sweet corn on the campus of the University farm at Davis this spring.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF EAGLE ROCK CITY

TREASURY FUNDS WILL PROVIDE IMPROVEMENTS

Majority of Los Angeles Officials Favor Plans of Local Trustees

The funds now in the city treasury, which will amount to something over $25,000, will be spent in improving local conditions, according to the assurance of representatives of the city attorney's office of Los Angeles. This money, raised among Eagle Rock taxpayers, will be expended, as far as possible and advisable, along the plans which the local board of trustees is to submit to the Los Angeles officials.

The majority of the city council have already stated their desire to spend the money in this district, putting in a larger main on Colorado boulevard, and doing all such street work as appears necessary. A garbage collection will be instituted immediately. In all matters of expenditure, while the Los Angeles board did not pledge to do any definite work, Mr. Criswell, heading the council, stated that that body would be guided by the local board in the matter of public improvements for Eagle Rock.

Eagle Rock is the first city annexing to Los Angeles with a municipal water system, and immediate steps will now be taken to provide sufficient water and facilities for local residents. This will mean the installation of bigger mains for the Tujunga water when it comes, and a 500-gallon reservoir. Thirty-inch mains will be installed up York boulevard, through Colorado boulevard. Mr. Mulholland, in charge of this work for Los Angeles, could put the line down in a little over thirty days, as the pipe has already been ordered, and wil come through the Panama canal. The pumping plant has not been ordered, but is now being investigated.

Mr. Edwards brought up the Eagle Rock water question in the high district, particularly on Peyton avenue, at the trustee's meeting last night. "This problem of water is the crucial point," he said. "In the hot spell before and directly after election day, March 27, the residents in the high levels of the valley were without water practically all day. This was due to the size of the small six-inch mains, which are the largest installed in the valley. This would indicate that this summer, without larger mains, Eagle Rock would face a terrible situation. In case of fire it would be particularly disastrous." Puente was cited as having faced this danger, plenty of water but insufficient facilities for carrying it to the people.

So the department of public service of Los Angeles assured the local representatives that the money raised here will be taken in to provide service for Eagle Rock without further bond issues. The money will be spent in local improvements as far as it will go.

J. M. GRANT WINS CONTRACT FOR CITY LAWN

J. M. Grant of the Eagle Rock Nursery, located at 840 West Colorado boulevard, has been awarded the contract to put in the city hall lawn and shrubbery, his bid amounting to $649. The entire lawn space will be carefully studied, and the shrubs and dwarf trees most appropriate to the small area will be selected for the landscape gardening plan which Mr. Grant will draw up.

On Wednesday night, another rehearsal of the Community Players who are cast in "Clarence," the production for this month, will take place at the Central school. This will be the first real stage rehearsal that the characters have had, since the try-outs last month. The play is well in shape now, all the cast having been thoroughly drilled by Mrs. Elgie Lowery Fischer, director, in the most effective vocal accents, stage business, and character work. Everything is now in readiness for the final sessions wherein comes the really difficult work that is to put the polish of professionalism on the production.

"FREE MARKET" PLAN GROWING

[By Associated Press]

VISALIA, Calif., April 10.—Having successfully established a "free public market" in Porterville, Cal., the Tulare County Farm Bureau Federation is preparing plans for a campaign to set up "free public markets" in five incorporated cities in this county. Officials of the bureau say they hope to give the growers a better opportunity of offering their goods to the housewife through the elimination of the middlemen.

The plan calls for "free markets" and cold storage plants in Porterville, Visalia, Lindsay, Exeter and Dinuba.

The actual launching of the movement awaits the completion of a drive for the building of community cold storage plants in the same cities. This plan was started by the farm bureau in conjunction with the cattlemen, whose object, primarily, is to reduce the price of meat to the consumer through direct sale and thus build up a falling cattle market.

The "free public market" plan in Porterville, started three months ago, has met with success, the men behind the movement assert. Thus far, the farmers have successfully disposed of practically everything they haul to town.

The co-operative cold storage plant now in operation at Tulare has also been utilized on a smaller scale as a "free public market" where the producer disposes of all farm produce directly to the consumer on the cash and carry basis.

The Porterville market, it is said, will merge with the Porterville cold storage plant when the latter is constructed, and the plan also calls for a similar attempt at Visalia, where the building will shortly be erected.

The elimination of the middleman is resulting in better prices to the farmer, more ready sale for his produce, with prices to the consumer slightly lower than the same articles are offered through the stores, according to the farmers in the movement.

The sweetest slumber is the kind interrupted by the alarm clock.

EFFECTIVE DATE OF ANNEXATION IS SOON

City Clerk Martsolf Files Certificate in Los Angeles This Morning

City Clerk Martsolf this morning filed the annexation certificate with City Clerk Dominguez of Los Angeles, thus insuring the immediate consolidation of the city of Eagle Rock with Los Angeles. At a special executive session held after the regular trustee meeting in the city hall last night, the decision to take this immediate action was reached.

The effective date of annexation was the "bone of contention" again throughout last night's meeting. Representatives of the city administration were present to give reports and arguments in favor of immediate filing of the certificate, which it was thought advisable to delay at last week's trustee meeting. This decision was reached at that time because of the many local projects now under consideration, chiefly street improvements.

But Mr. Eberhardt, of the city attorney's office, stated that in consideration of the new ruling passed by the Los Angeles council, Eagle Rock might not be admitted to Los Angeles at this time, unless the necessary steps to such end be taken so that such a consolidation might become effective before the huge bond election in Los Angeles on June 6th. If this happened, another election and other political wars would result.

Before conferring with the Los Angeles heads, Godfrey Edwards felt that the wiser course to pursue was delay until completion of the small local problems now on hand, but at last night's session he stated a change of opipion. "The generous spirit of co-operation shown by the Los Angeles officials exceeds all the wildest expectations of the consolidationists, and we would not wish to embarrass them in their bond issue program by a delay which might also be fatal to our best interests," he said. Never in the history of Los Angeles has a bond issue been floated that some technical question of the legality did not arise, according to Mr. Eberhardt. So the point was brought out that if Eagle Rock becomes a part of Los Angeles at once, the validity of the big issues at stake will not be affected. A week from now would be too late for all legal proceedings.

The bond issue will run about twenty or twenty-two million dollars, and the part which Eagle Rock assumes is one-half of one percent.

Even as matters now stand, the fact that the Los Angeles council has decided that an ordinance is sufficient to take in a new city, without the people's vote, will undoubtedly bring about some litigation and question in the courts, according to Mr. Eberhardt.

After the trustees had been assured by all those in authority that the Los Angeles officials intend to allow Eagle Rock the full benefit of local funds now in the treasury, there was little time wasted in coming to a definite decision.

The footpad leaped upon the inoffensive little man and began searching his pockets. Soon he discovered a wallet containing a few bills.

"Are you going to take that?" asked the little man plaintively. "It's my week's wages."

"I want it," said the footpad briefly.

"Then shoot a hole through my hat."

"What for?"

"I want to submit it as evidence to the missus. The last time I told her I was robbed it started an argument that kept me up until 3 in the morning."

Smiles cost less than electric lights and they make the home brighter.

REV. C. S. PROUT SPEAKS ON SICK WORLD

Using stereopticon views to illustrate the points of his discourse, Rev. C. S. Prout addressed a congregation at the Seventh-day Adventist Tabernacle on Myrtle avenue, Eagle Rock, Sunday evening, on the theme of "God's Remedy for a Sick World."

"Men recognize everywhere," the speaker said, "that a strange and fatal sickness has come upon our world, and that a remedy is desperately needed." He quoted a long list of headlines taken from newspaper and magazine articles showing the alarm which is felt by statesmen and writers at this time as they turn their eyes to the future and endeavor to apprehend what is coming.

"To understand how this condition of things has come about," the speaker said, "we must go back in our minds to the rebellion of Lucifer in heaven, which resulted in his banishment from that happy realm and the setting up of his kingdom on the earth. 'There was war in heaven,' says Rev. 12:7, and verse 9 states that 'the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the devil, and satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.' The same chapter tells us (v. 12) that this means woes to the inhabitants of the earth, because the devil is stirred with great wrath against the souls for whom Christ has died. It is no wonder that our world is filled with woe. Conditions are only such as we might expect them to be where satan has his kingdom.

"We must overcome satan and his forces of evil in the same way that Christ overcame him. Christ has left us an example. He met the devil's representations with the words 'It is written.' These words, 'It is written' are the flaming sword which satan cannot withstand. Christ did not depend upon miracles or supernatural manifestations or upon any wonderful works, in His conflict with the great adversary. He simply quoted the word of God, and the devil could not resist it. We must do the same in the battle with the fallen foe. God's word is surer evidence to us of what is truth than is anything else that we can see, or hear, or feel.

"Satan is filling the world today with his signs and lying wonders, which appeal to the senses rather than to faith in God. We cannot trust in what we see or in what the wise men of the world may tell us is true. We have, says Peter, 'a more sure word of prophecy, whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place.' (2 Pet. 1:19). The divine remedy for a sick world is in a return to faith in the Bible, that volume which the devil has succeeded in pushing into the background, so that today most people have dropped it out of their lives. God's word received into the heart by faith, always works a reformation in the life. But the sovereign remedy for our stricken world," the speaker declared, "will be the return of Christ, the great Physician, who, when He left the world two thousand years ago gave the promise that He would come again. (Acts 1:11; John 14:3). That coming is the hope of the world today."

Wednesday evening next Rev. Prout will give Scriptural reasons for believing that millions of people now living will die twice, instead of believing that "millions now living will never die," as has been widely advertised.

PRETTY GIRLS TO DANCE AND SELL CANDY

A commendable group of pretty young girls appeared at the local library yesterday afternoon in response to the call of the American Legion auxiliary for a group of girls to try out for the Maypole dance that is planned as the principal feature of the entertainment program of the auxiliary dance which takes place in the Woman's Club ballroom on the evening of the first Saturday in May.

All of the girls were given an opportunity to appear in the dance. Most of them have had previous dancing work in the gymnasium classes at high school. Miss Mildred Lerchin will direct the dance and has planned some very pretty steps and costume features for the occasion. The young ladies chosen for the dance will be in charge of the "mystic circle" candy booth on the 27th and 28th of this month. They will wear crepe paper costumes, appropriate for the function which the candy money will be appropriated for, the May dance of the Legion auxiliary.

YORK-STATE FOLKS INVITED FOR PICNIC RALLY

Dr. George H. MacNeill, phone 64523, president of the New York State Society of Southern California, calls on all who have ever lived in that state to meet for the great picnic reunion, all day, Saturday, April 14, 1923, in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles. Come as early as you can and spend the day with friends. There will be county registers and headquarters so that one can find the old neighbors even with five thousand present. There will be a brief program opening about 2 o'clock, but the main purpose will be to have a good time. Former residents are all invited and should attend so as to make this the greatest picnic in our history. Bring your baskets well filled and share with friends. Coffee will be served free to all who buy the souvenir badges. Tables can be reserved for college, county, or town reunions. Each one who learns of this picnic is asked to pass the word along. Further information may be had of the president, or of C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Societies, Continental National bank, Main at Ninth, Los Angeles, phone 10261, where our registers are kept on file and all may see them.

CONTRACTS DELAYED

Although the awarding of the contract for the street improvement at Florida Way and Lucile avenue was deferred one week, Peter L. Ferry still proved to be the lowest bidder with a total for the construction work of $11,315.72, and has been granted permission to proceed with the work.

Editorials by the People

My article on "Persistence of Force" sufficiently answers Herbert Spencer. In this article I show what the ten universal laws of spirit and matter are.

In the beginning all things began—were begun. In, at, before the beginning, was God, the eternal Spirit. There were two substances:

I. The eternal Spirit, God. His first law was purpose. Purpose is the first and universal law of spirit, action, and all spiritual activities.

II. Matter. It has 3 kinds, or elements: first, metallic; second, semi-metallic.

Third, non-metallic and gaseous.

Matter has ten great universal laws. First there is inertia, powerlessness, no power to move or to stop itself; second, impenetrability, inability to fill two spaces at once; third, electricity, electrons created; fourth, gravity, attraction; fifth, cohesion, law of combination or chemical affinity, compositions and proportions; sixth, crystallization; seventh, coordination, the law of life and lives; eighth, the law of growth by secretion, absorption as in plants, assimilation as in animals, interception in humans, mental conception and choice or appropriation; ninth, utility and use; tenth, purpose, from the first law of spirit.

These natural facts, realities, forces, laws and processes give the true data of the valid thirty material sciences, and the concrete philosophy, the true science of all sciences and of existence.

Some years ago, after reading Prof. Howeison's book, "The Limits of Evolution" carefully several times, I wrote him, saying the only necessary criticism is that evolution is absolutely false. That is limit enough.

A little later, after carefully examining Prof. Wm. N. Rice's work, "The Christian Faith in an Age of Science," I wrote him thus, "The objection to this is that it is not an age of science."

I now add that I very deeply regret the fact that no profesor or author in Wesleyan universities has so far attempted to answer these criticisms except by recounting old exploded arguments.

LOCAL LEGION TO ATTEND MEETING IN LOS ANGELES

Plans were completed today by Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion to attend the big celebration given in their honor at Los Angeles, Wednesday evening, April 18, by La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux. Reports from the local Legion's office indicate that practically every Legionnaire in Glendale led by Commander Day will attend the big show, to which his membership card will admit him free. Sid Grauman and Alexander Pantages will have the largest group of stars and entertainers ever assembled for an ex-service men's entertainment. Mr. Grauman will personally direct the program.

Many high-up officials of the Forty-Eight will attend the festivity. Among them will be National Sous Chemin de Fer, Clarence Cronkhite; Grande Chef de Gare Herbert J. Simons, and A. W. Smith, Chef de Gare of the Los Angeles County Voiture No. 47. All the American Legion commanders and officers of every post in this county are also to be present at the big time. The Union League club, 255 South Hill street, Los Angeles, will be the scene of action. Every white male American Legion member in the county has been invited, and Sheriff Bill Traeger, one of the most popular of the 40-8 members, will have charge of the doors to see that only World War veterans gain admittance. Local members having room in their autos to take a few of their buddies to the big show are asked to get in touch with the local Legion adjutant.

THE MARKETS

[By Associated Press]

NEW YORK, April 10.—Speculators for the decline, taking advantage of the absence of public support, continued to depress prices in today's stock market. Cuts in western crude oil and gasoline prices furnished an excuse for an attack on oil shares. Higher money rates and the announcement of additional wage increases had a restraining effect on buying. Sales approximated 825,000 shares.

Further irregularity took place at the opening of today's stock market, early gains and losses being about evenly divided. Slight improvement was noted in such recent industrial favorites as Baldwin, American Can, Mack Truck, Studebaker, the Pan-American issues, Phillips Petroleum and Crucible Steel. Missouri Pacific preferred, Maryland Oil and May Department Stores were heavy.

Despite the announcement of an 11 per cent increase in the steel industry wages, most of the steel shares moved to higher ground. Crucible forfeited its early gain and dropped back 5-8 of a point, but U. S. Steel opened 1-8 higher and Gulf States, Sloss Sheffield and Iron Products advanced 1-2 to 3-4. Gains of a point each were registered by American Waterworks common and 6 per cent preferred, Atlantic Refining and Phillips Petroleum. International Paper yielded a point on publication of a relatively poor 1922 earnings report. Losses of a point or more also were established by Maxwell Motors "A," Willys Overland preferred, Woloworth and U. S. Realty. Foreign exchanges opened heavy, demand sterling dropping nearly a cent to $4.64 5-8 and francs slumped 7 points to 6.65 1-2.

Trading continued dull throughout the morning, with the main price tendency downward. Distribution was evident in some of the speculative industrials, notably the oils and the motors. Marking up of the call money renewal rate to five percent and the spreading movement of wage increases in various industries with a resultant reduction of profits had a restraining influence on buying. Sugars became buoyant when the price of raw Cuban went to 5 5-8 cents a pound, a new high record. Several minor rails also developed impressive strength, gains of 1 to 1 1-2 points being recorded by Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Pere Marquette and Ann Arbor preferred.

BURBANK ROTARIANS RECEIVE CHARTER AT BANQUET AT SUNSET CANYON COUNTRY CLUB MONDAY

Club Is Host to a Hundred Guests to Celebrate the Occasion When District Governor Makes Presentation

Celebrating Charter night in royal style, the Burbank Rotary club members were hosts Monday evening to a hundred guests at the Sunset Canyon Country club. The clubhouse, profusely decorated in the Rotary colors of blue and gold, formed a rich background for the happy occasion.

A handsome rotary wheel of blue and gold flowers hung over the fireplace above the speaker's table. The deep blue of the bachelor buttons and the shining yellow of the marigold, giving a flower hedge effect, added to the loveliness of the evening.

Standing in the reception line to receive the guests were the president, J. C. Crawford, A. C. Fillbach, Ray Sence, D. B. Cummings and W. J. Riley, the entertainment committee in charge of arrangements for the affair.

An elaborate dinner was served at 7:00 o'clock. After the banquet, Jack Williams, the district governor, presented the charter to the club. Dr. Van Meter made the acceptance speech for the Burbank Rotarians. Roy Kent and Rev. Ernest Ford, both of Glendale, gave the other addresses of the evening.

One of the very delightful features of the evening was the musical numbers. Mrs. H. J. Valentine, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Fisher at the piano, sang "The Swinging Soldier Song," the negro song which is so popular very recently, "Run on Home," and the Indian song, "When the Dark Mists Curtain the Doorway," written by Homer Gruenn of Los Angeles.

The tables were arranged together in the continuous horse shoe shape, set in the living-room.

DELEGATES TO GIVE REPORTS

Representatives Attending District Convention Tell of Sessions

The Burbank Woman's club were scheduled to hear reports today on the district club meeting, from the delegates who attended the convention at San Luis Obispo.

Mrs. Johnson, the president; Mrs. May Clarke, Mrs. Kate Thimgan and Mrs. Fisher found the meetings very inspirational and educational, and noted many things which they thought would help the local club.

RADIO FANS MEET TONIGHT

Everybody in Burbank is invited to the meeting of the Radio club this evening at the Palais Majestic hall. There will be no charge to the meeting. The club will give a radio program. In this way it hopes to arouse interest and increase enthusiasm for all radio things.

Burbank men think the radio broadcasting station one of the finest ways to advertise the town, and for that reason are anxious that all the talent in the town will attend the meetings, and promise their support to any program given in the city.

With everybody boosting for the idea, it is hoped that Burbank will be represented at least once a week in the radio concerts broadcasted in Los Angeles. For that reason the Radio club is anxious that you and your neighbor's family will all attend the meeting this evening.

BUILDING PERMITS MONDAY ARE $6150

Burbank building permits for Monday totaled $6,150. Elmer Dale, building inspector, issued permits to M. G. Goodhart, 250 South Verdugo avenue, for $2,000; Mrs. Kate Murphy, 715 North Orange Grove avenue, for garage, $150; J. A. Barton, 602 West Sixth street, dwelling and garage, $4,000.

—Verdi.

The greatest Italian composer of the 19th century wrote this popular opera—Guiseppe Verdi. He was born in Italy in 1813, the same year as Richard Wagner. Guiseppe was a good boy, but he was somewhat shy and inclined to melancholy and rarely played with the other village boys. The only thing that seemed to rouse his interest in the least was an organ grinder who occasionally came to the village.

Verdi's parents were so poor that the question of education never came to them; but at the age of ten we find the boy running errands for a grocer who also was a lover of music. When 12, Verdi occasionally played the organ in the village church. At the age of 17, a friend secured for Guiseppe a free scholarship at the Conservatory of Milan. The youth went gaily forth attended by the blessings of the whole village.

But to the amazement and indignation of his friends, the conservatory refused to admit him, saying he was no musician. The townspeople still had faith in him, and made him village organist at $40 a year. Verdi then married the daughter of his grocer friend, Jasquith. He had two children. When but 26, Verdi found himself in poverty. In 1839 his two children and wife died and his operas were failures. Two years of blackness followed. Then he received inspiration for an opera from a friend, and from that time on everything he wrote was received enthusiastically. In 1850 he married again, and for 50 years this woman was his intellectual companion, his friend, his wife. Verdi died in 1902 in the 89th year of his age.

"Anvil Chorus"—this chorus is sung in the second act of the opera. The scene opens on a gypsy camp at the foot of a large mountain. The gypsies pound their anvils as they sing this stirring chorus.

"Home to Our Mountains," from Guiseppe Verdi's opera, "Il Trovatore," is sung in the fourth act by Manrico and Azucena. They are in the dungeon. Manrico is waiting for his execution, while Azucena, his mother, is dying. She thinks of her happy mountain home and, half-dead, she and Manrico sing of going back to their mountains.

A woman of the most unmistakably conservative type had accidentally got into the railway coach reserved for smokers. With ill-concealed indignation she saw the man next to her fill his pipe. "Sir," she said frigidly, "smoking always makes me ill." "Does it, ma'am," was the polite rejoinder, "Take my advice and give it up."

METHODISTS GO TO MONROVIA

Victory Class Drives to Edwards' Home

A long line of automobiles left Burbank about 6:00 o'clock Monday evening for Monrovia. The Anchor class members of the Methodist church were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Edwards. More than forty attended and took their dinners with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards were former members of the Burbank church and of the Victory class. They were very popular and their invitation was received with great pleasure.

ROMEO WILL BE HOST TO DRUIDS

The Druids are to be entertained at dinner Thursday evening. Petro Romeo has invited them as guests and yet they will pay $1.50 for the dinner. The money is not to pay for the dinner, however, but will go to the fund for buying regalia for the lodge.

The dinner is to be served at the Romeo home, 733 Providencia avenue, Thursday evening, and will be a big affair. Druids are counting upon it to be very elaborate.

ENJOY OUTING AT WHEELER SPRINGS

Burbank Business Men and Families Go on All-Day Picnic

Some of the tired business men of Burbank and their families enjoyed an all-day outing Sunday at Wheeler Springs. One of the entertaining features of the day was the preparing for registering for the movie man's camera. Gullette and Campbell, who are preparing a series of pictures advertising Burbank, took the scenes.

The day was the introduction of Mr. Campbell's bride to Burbank people, for Mr. and Mrs. Campbell just returned Saturday from their wedding trip. Another happy couple celebrated a wedding day anniversary at this outing, for Mr. and Mrs. Barton were married April 8, 1922.

Among those who went and took a car load were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Isbell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kendig, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Skeen, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Charles Hough, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Mr. Gullette.

SURTAX REVISION IS INDICATED IN TAXES

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, April 9.—A $70,000,000 increase in the March collections of income and profits taxes as compared with the March collections of last year, on which the higher income surtax rates applied, gives a practical answer to the tax problem and "show what course further revision should take," Secretary Mellon declared last night.

Forecasting possible efforts by the treasury to have congress further cut the surtax rates on incomes, Secretary Mellon asserted that the March collections of $463,000,000 had fully justified his prediction that downward revision would have the effect of increasing rather than decreasing the federal revenue. The secretary viewed the increase in collections as proof that the downward revision had acted as a stimulant to business.

Doing good is the one certain happy action of a man or woman.

PREPARE FOR MAY FESTIVAL

Edison School Pupils Talk of the Coming Pageant

Despite the unpromising April weather today, teachers of the Edison building are thinking and planning of the gala day when the children will celebrate the May festival. The teachers have not yet announced the name of the May queen, but the pupils have an idea who it will be.

Not only are the children delighted in talking of the pageant but the parents are looking forward to the day. The first performance will be given in the afternoon for the school children and will be repeated in the evening for the parents.

This May Day festival, which goes back to the Roman festival to Flora, the goddess of flowers, means all the more to the pupils because of its historic interest. They are looking up stories about the way it was celebrated in Shakespeare's time in merry England when the entire court went "a maying" at an early hour "to fetch the flowers."

Little girls are quite thrilled with the stories relating to the fairest maid of the village being crowned with flowers, and they are pleased with the picture of every town and village having its Maypole on the village green on which wreaths of flowers are hung and around which the people dance.

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS

According to Conan Doyle, Lord Carnarvon was killed by some potent spirit left to guard the tomb of Tutankhamen. If this could be proved, then there is no superstition. The banshee is not a belief of the credulous, merely, but is a fact. The midnight ghost flitting through the cemetery shadows, is as real as the moldering bones beneath.

Sometimes the world really presents the aspect of wisdom. It seems to have learned something. It casts away as silly, its faith in prowling spirits, demons, witches, goblins, omens. Then arises a Conan Doyle to demonstrate that in spots at least, it is as silly as ever. There hardly is a castle without its haunting wraith. In almost every family there is the legend of uncanny visitations. These things are regarded as interesting because nobody believes them, and, failing to believe them, everybody is conscious of superiority over the ancestors who had treasured the traditions as narrations of fact.

The justly celebrated lassie, Alice, whose excursions into Wonderland make marvelous reading, has been viewed wholly as the creation of fancy. No one, delighted with the volume setting forth her adventures, dreamed that she really had had such adventures. The opinion was that even Alice herself was only the representation of a thought arising in the mind of an author. But this assumes that the world is sane. Conan Doyle arrives on the scene and declares, by implication, that the world is as crazy as a June bug. If it accepts as a remote possibility the truth of the statement that the spirit guards of Tutankhamen, pricked the skin of the archaeologist, with a ghostly but poisonous prod, it is at least that crazy. Then anything that you ever heard of becomes acceptable. Alice and her Wonderland change to tangible entities. The chimerical takes on solidity. Jack climbed the beanstalk, and the howling of a dog is a sign of death.

A REGIME OF HORROR

A brave American correspondent who attended the trial of the accused priests in Russia, has given the first succinct account of the horrible affair reaching this country. He signs his name in full. It would not be surprising were there to be another tragedy in Russia, concerning which, this correspondent could not be in position to write. Doubtless it is at the risk of his life that he has been so frank in expressing his loathing for the brutal and noxious regime now holding sway in a benighted and unhappy land.

The statements of this correspondent make clear that the priests were not tried for political offenses, but for their religious convictions. They had not been guilty of political offenses, or if they had, nothing tending so to prove was introduced in evidence. But they had taught the catechism to children. Each answered in the affirmative when asked. There is a bolshevik law that forbids the imparting of religious instruction to any one of less than eighteen. Under this law, and the spirit that could make possible such a law, were the priests condemned to death or to prison.

The whole procedure was vile. The prosecutor was clamoring for blood. He seemed to be controlled by a frenzy of hatred, and a desire to slay. No ravening wild beast scenting prey ever displayed a ferocity more unbridled. And yet the bolshevists, thus defying and insulting civilization, and morals and belief, have the unspeakable assurance to complain that they are not admitted to an equality with other peoples. They are excluded. The reason for their exclusion is that they are unfit to associate with decency, are dishonorable, depraved and despicable.

THE PUZZLED JURY

The jury in the Foster trial at St. Joseph, Mich., failed to agree. Had only one or two held out for acquittal, the outcome might have been ascribed to prejudice, or to sinister influence. That the jury was evenly divided put a different complexion on the matter. The division certainly indicates that the prosecution did not make out a case. Foster was charged with violation of the criminal syndicalism act. He is a member of the Communist organization, and one of the number present when a gathering of communists was scattered by the authorities, those who could be caught, being placed under arrest.

It is not singular that a jury should have failed to agree. The principle that accords liberty of thought and expression to the individual, is dear to the people of this country. To draw a strict line defining the spot at which license supplants liberty, and the precise conduct that characterizes the change, must be a difficult undertaking. The average jury, in time of peace, at least, would be fearful of infringing upon individual rights.

Foster is generally regarded as the enemy of this government. Judged by utterances ascribed to him, and by activities in which he is alleged to have taken part, there could not well be a different conclusion. He was arraigned before the proper tribunal. There was full opportunity to present the truth. Half of the jury held that he was not guilty. Whether this was due to faulty prosecution leading to failure to marshal the facts, or to the basic lack of facts, the pronounced radicals doubtless feel that they have scored a victory.

Since the death of Bernhardt there have been several critics who sought to lessen her fame. One went so far as to quote the George Bernard Shaw of long ago, quite ignoring the fact that since then Shaw has attained his intellectual maturity. Even as a youngster, Shaw was pretty smart, but he was not a real authority.

AVIATION IN AMERICA

American genius produced the flying machine. Scientists in this country were experimenting with heavier-than-air appliances while all the rest of the world laughed. But when aviation had become a fact, the people of other lands seized upon the idea. They have gone far ahead of the country where aviation was born. They have more airplanes and better ones. In the United States transportation of passengers by airplane still is a rare novelty. Abroad, an air trip from Paris to London is so common as not even to excite comment. Experts in aviation say that the profession here is hampered and discredited because of the use of antiquated machines by men who are mere stunt performers. These machines often are wrecked, due to faults both of construction and of operation.

Military authorities back the navy in the assertion that only an abundant fleet of airplanes could defend the Panama canal. Such fleets are in existence, or are being constructed, but this government has none, and so far as can be ascertained, no thought of providing one. Were the canal to be attacked by land or sea under present conditions, it would be destroyed, unless the opinions of strategists are all wrong.

In time of war the United States did undertake to build airplanes. It expended large sums and acquired a gigantic scandal, but it got no planes. If the policy of economy as applied to the departments of public defense is to continue, it never will have any planes. It will be at the mercy of the other powers. These are the powers from which the United States has been induced to hold aloof. They are not pleased. In an emergency it might be found that their several stocks of mercy had run low.

What Do You Put Into Your Time?

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

What have you to put into your time?

Nothing? Then time will hang on your hands with a leaden weight. Unoccupied time is like an empty house; it is the abode of desolation and the dwelling place of despair. In fact, it is so awful that, rather than face it, the idle will fill their hours with any banality, any folly, any wickedness.

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

It is the mode of our time to sing paeons to work. The paeons are composed and instigated by the chaps who want you to work for them. No matter; work is a blessing and a panacea, because it fills time. Accomplishments intelligently pursued do the same thing, so do fads, and the various charitable activities as well as innumerable other artificial minute fillers.

In a little story that I recently read this phase of life was forcibly brought to my attention by the comment of a poor little child of the slums who said, looking envyingly at a rich woman passing in her machine:

"She's happy; she's got things to put into her time."

Perhaps she was happy. She had things to put into her time. But did she put them there? I wonder; the point is that, for her, relief from the ennui of passing time was possible while for the poor little waif it was not.

Some recent scientist said truly that the evolutionary process is so slow that it is necessary for mankind to invent all kinds of things to fill the ages. Of course evolution and its myriad activities are at work all the time, but we are largely unconscious of the progress. All we know is that the ticking of the clock drives us mad, so that we, too, must be active and forget it.

But filling time is futile unless we fill it with something that will return a dividend, not necessarily a money dividend; but a dividend made manifest in terms of progress, physical, mental and moral. Progress comes through a response evoked by some call. If there were no desire there would be no progress, for we would do nothing, and doing nothing, we should cease to grow.

The value of children is that they make people move; they inspire nations to improve, they stimulate ambition and its consequent activities. Love fear, even hate motivate action and thought, and so can be made to serve the evolutionary processes and fill time.

How are you filling your time? Are you filling it at all? If not you are one of the army of the miserable.

Vocabulary

Do you use the word hectic properly? It means habitual or constitutional, and denotes a wasting habit or condition of the body; as, hectic emaciation. A hectic patient is a consumptive; he has hectic fever, and in connection with this fever there appears on the cheek a pinkish red flush, called a hectic flush. A hectic patient also has a hectic pulse.

Queries

H. C. Bern of New York asks if the following sentences are correct: "Philosophy, theology, and science each has wrestled with the problem"; "Army, Navy, and Cornell each get two places"; "There was no demonstration, no waving of flags, no shouts of joy". He closes as follows: "Would greatly appreciate answer in your column." The closing sentence of Mr. Bern's letter should have begun with "I", and there should have been the word "an" before answer. Furthermore, the sentence should have begun as follows: I should greatly appreciate (not would). The first of the foregoing examples is correct. Gets should replace get in the second. The third is correct.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

This is a bit of Listening Post about the plow.

Or plough if you choose to spell it so.

Gray writes of it.

JAMES W. FOLEY

Of the ploughman who homeward plods his weary way.

And the ploughman may not be the handsomest or the best dressed or the most lavishly adorned and jeweled, but he is the most important individual in the world.

* * *

The plow enabled some far distant ancestors of us to establish a civilization.

Permanent abiding places.

Where there were houses and streets and homes for people.

Because the plow meant food.

And before the plow men and women were travelers in search of food.

* * *

They sought food for themselves and for their horses and cattle and goats.

And traveled from place to place.

Living perhaps in tents of bark or skins.

Following the sun and the rain and the grass.

* * *

And after a long time came the plow.

The greatest of all implements made by human hands.

Greater than the sword or the pen or the telegraph instrument or any thing like that.

Because all other implements have been builded upon the plow.

* * *

The plow opened the earth to the planting of grain.

It enabled our distant ancestors to raise constant supplies of food.

Grain for themselves and forage for cattle.

And so mankind was enabled to settle down in permanent habitations.

* * *

Instead of following the seasons from place to place, the plow enabled our ancestors to plant and harvest in spring and summer and autumn and then store food for the winter.

And it enabled them to find hay and corn for cattle and goats.

The plow builded the first village.

* * *

It was not a plow of steel perchance.

Or of iron.

It may have been a plow fashioned from tough and hard wood.

Or it may have been a plow of bone or flint.

But it was an implement that made the soil ready for planting.

* * *

And with permanent habitations came learning.

A study of the earth and its seasons and elements and earth and waters.

The discovery of the truths that nature had held inviolate.

For it was not necessary to devote all of the time to finding food.

The plow made it possible for communities to be fed without the hunt and the chase alone.

* * *

And today the plow and plowman stand first of all the rest.

No civilization can survive without them.

There must be plowing and planting and reaping and then sowing and reaping again.

The plow was the trade mark of civilization.

Is now.

And will continue to be for all time.

Songs of the Poets

A Wood Song—By Ralph Hodson

Now one and all, you Roses,
Wake up, you lie too long!
This very morning closes
The Nightingale his song.

Each from its olive chamber
His babies every one
This very morning clamber
Into the shining sun.

You Slug-a-beds and Simples,
Why will you so delay!
Dears, doff your olive wimples,
And listen while you may.

SARAH BERNHARDT

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE recent death of Sarah Bernhardt closes the career of the most remarkable woman of modern time.

Maurice Maeterlinck, who knew her well, said when she died, "Tonight there has passed the greatest feminine personality since Sappho."

There will be many explanations of her success. But there is no explanation.

She may have been lucky; she may have had personal charm; she may have been persistent and industrious; she may have had genius; but many other has had these qualifications and not achieved her fame.

The power of personality remains the world's greatest mystery.

One can see for himself how inexplicable it is by asking himself why he likes one person and dislikes another, or why one person stimulates and another depresses.

She had beauty neither in face nor form and yet excited in her fellows a passionate admiration that few beauties attain.

Her voice was not pleasing. The street venders of Paris used to run a string covered with rosin to the bottom of a tin can and when the string was pulled the contraption gave forth a peculiarly harsh squawk. They called this the voice of Sarah Bernhardt. All the same that voice thrilled millions.

She was essentially a public soul. She had that rare quality that attracts the multitude. She said herself:

"For fifty years I have given the public the vibrations of my soul, the pulsations of my heart, the tears from my eyes."

It may be that the multitude loved her for the simplest of all reasons—she loved the multitude.

Her hold over men was not due to youth nor to any trick of appearance. Even down to old age she retained her enthusiastic following.

At sixty-six she was still able to produce illusion in the character of Rostand's "Eaglet."

Later still, after one of her legs was amputated, she successfully returned to the stage.

In her old age she made a tour of America and as she could not get bookings in the legitimate theaters, she played in tents. At one of these engagements she played in Los Angeles a performance to 12,000 persons.

The life force was strong in her. And perhaps the best mark of life force is courage.

Somehow courage is a quality that profoundly appeals to us. It is the first of virtues. There is no soul so mean in which courage is not admirable. Indeed we can forgive almost anything if one is unafraid.

Sarah Bernhardt faced the world, faced her critics, faced her limitations, faced tradition and faced death itself with a fearless smile. And at last all mankind came to her feet.

Anything unbeautiful that may have been said of her or thought of her is dissolved forever in that splendid courage.

We are all soldiers in the great campaign against despair, and the flag of this comrade of the world floating valiantly above the doubtful ridges of the battle has put heart into us all.

"Allons! After the great companions!"

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

HERRIN NOT FORGOTTEN

[New Orleans Times-Picayune]

Another phase of the Herrin, Ill., massacre is marked for exploration. The Illinois house of representatives, it is announced, has ordered a committee investigation of the causes of the failure to send state troops to Herrin when the "private war" broke out in that mining town. The purpose of the legislative inquiry is to fix the responsibility for that failure and to ascertain whether or not it was produced by wilful neglect.

An inquiry of that character seems very much in order. As we recall the newspaper history of the Herrin conflict the adjutant general of Illinois assigned a member of his staff to observation duty at Herrin when the situation there became threatening. For reasons never very satisfactorily explained, no state troops were sent to the scene until after the massacre was a red and an accomplished fact. Several theories regarding the fatal delay have been put forward. The Illinois house now proposes to find out the facts.

The investigation comes late, but if it brings out the truth should prove well worth while. Timely arrival of state troops at Herrin in all likelihood would have prevented the massacre which stained the good name of Illinois while giving Herrin and Williamson county a sinister fame. The people of Illinois certainly have a right to the facts regarding the failure to send troops to defend the violated law and maintain the public peace.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The death of Horace Boies at Long Beach marked the end of a more than ordinarily interesting career. In the first place, Mr. Boies had reached the age of ninety-five. No life could last such a length of time without contact with events of importance, and participating in large affairs. Twice was Mr. Boies elected governor of Iowa, the only democrat to have held the office in that state.

HENRY JAMES

Old residents of Iowa will recall when to characterize an Iowan as a democrat was the same as calling him a copperhead, which was a fighting word. Many children born in that state about the date of the Civil war, grew up with the belief that a democrat was some rare and wicked specimen, to be encountered only at the grave peril of the bodies and souls of good little girls and boys.

This idea was outgrown sufficiently not only to elevate Mr. Boies twice to the highest office in the state, but to put him within striking distance of the presidential nomination. It is probable that he would have made a stronger run than some of those who edged him out of the running. But long ago the aged man was content to retire from politics. He had known its stresses, borne its honors, and was ready to quit even before the burden of years forced him to such course.

A London paper is quoted by a Hearst paper as having said that the recent political victory in Chicago enhanced the prospects of Hearst for the presidency. Well, well.

Occasionally when a prohibition official pays for something he thinks is to be whisky, the stuff turns out to be nothing but water. Then the purchaser feels aggrieved. It might be thought that such proof that a suspected bootlegger was innocent, would cheer the official, but not so.

People will read with interest that observations made in Australia tend to sustain the Einstein theory. They have not yet learned what the theory is, nor what would happen were it to be overthrown instead of sustained. An Omaha woman retired from business after seventeen months of activity, with a net profit of $45,000. She made the mistake of mentioning the figures in rather a boastful fashion, and they arrested her.

The fact that her business was bootlegging doubtless created a prejudice damaging to her prosperity, but she could have gotten away with a big roll but for the tendency to talk too much. There may be money in bootlegging, but it is nothing to brag about.

* * *

It is rather diverting to see the k. k. k. people of the south engaged in fighting each other.

If they were to form a couple of zealous mobs, equipped with tar and feathers, the world would stand by to give a fair decision.

Thieves broke into the Hall of Records in Los Angeles and stole a lot of highly treasured evidence. This evidence was in bottles and cases. It was being held in order to smooth the path of justice as relentlessly it pursued the bootlegger.

Proof has not been lacking that the bootlegger is a bad lot. He will steal whisky, sell it, and steal it back. When it fails into the hands of the authorities, he will steal it again, brazenly disregarding the fact that in so doing he is in contempt of court.

There is a determined search for the missing liquor. Some of it is so vile that the public is endangered by it. Some of it is too good, the guardians opine, to be wasted on a mere public.

Anyhow, the whisky is gone, and the chances are that it is not going to stage a come-back.

* * *

It still is quite possible to get swindled in oil. Anybody with money to invest with a stranger, who offers for sale a stock of which nothing is known, has frequent opportunity to part from his money.

The laws of California, however, protect the investor who uses common sense. There is no more wisdom displayed by the victim of the oil shark than by the victim of the shell game.

WATCHING THE PARADE

BY JOHN DILGRIM

It was a little more than a year ago when Arthur Allerton Dansington shook hands with me on the street. Walked right up, put out the right hand, gave mine a hearty up-and-down movement, gleamed at me through his new spectacles, and hoped we'd meet again soon. And left me gasping. If you ever saw a fat carp just after having been lifted out of the ancestral pond——

"Whassa matter with Duke Dansington?" I asked at the lunch club that day. "On a stock selling campaign? Or is he beginning to dip snuff? Or what? Shook hands with me like the doorman in a bucket-shop."

No one knew. However, the fact was broadcast on the dining room radio.

"Mebbe he's going a little bit coocoo," was the general verdict.

For no one has ever been more distantly upstage in our small town than Arthur Allerton Dansington. He is tall, good looking, and with the sort of slim legs that send tailors into raptures. Always seemed to have a good time when he was with the gang. But next day he'd pass any of them on the street without so much as a chirp. Time after time he has cut me, or responded to my hand wave with a puzzled stare, until I had passed A. A. Dansington into the discard. Now, I'm easy to remember. Nature provided that. So that I took it for granted that he hoped to forget me.

"That name of his is a wash-out, too," I used to tell myself. "Any way who would tote that sort of a three-storied moniker has ghosts in his attic."

Now I find that he was just short-sighted. That's all. That day he gave me the merry halloo on the street he had just invested in his first pair of glasses.

"In all my life," he told me, "I'd never seen a face clearly. They were all fuzzed up about the edges. But I didn't want to wear specs."

DO YOU KNOW THAT—?

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST PREPARES FREE MAP OF GLENDALE

The Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank has had 18,000 very useful and convenient street maps of Glendale prepared for free distribution through their two Glendale branches.

The map is complete in every detail and contains a street index and map of Glendale, Eagle Rock, and Burbank on one side and a motor and relief map of Southern California on the other.

Aviators flying over the Pacific-Southwest have found the relief map an invaluable aid, as the topography details have been very accurately sketched by one of Southern California's noted artists, and the map therefore serves a double purpose for aviators as an aerial guide and motorists as a road guide.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

JAMES W. FOLEY

STUNG

I've had me a card printed. "NEVER AGAIN":
It rests on my desk and I look now and then.
It saves lots of money from slick witted chaps
Who come and might cheat me without it perhaps.
It recalls drafts I've honored and checks I have signed,
And loans I have made that are gone like the wind.
It locks up my check book and quick fountain pen.
And there you may see it, marked: "NEVER AGAIN!"

The shares in the gold mine are selling so low
They will make me a fortune when things start to go.
A cent on the dollar, they'll soon be at par,
A hundred for one—how alluring they are.
Then I see my sign winking and shaking its head
And the words on its face printed there in brigh red,
I think of the times I've invested—and then
I put back my check book—No, Never Again!

And the smooth talking stranger who joked and who laughed,
Who was short of hard cash—but who had the small draft;
A mere matter of friendship,—of course I would sign
To help out that friend from the old town of mine.
It cost me just fifty, with protest and all,
But the milk has been spilt and I'm not going to squall,
But here on my desk is the card and now when
That smooth stranger comes I say: "Never again!"

So book agent, stock salesman, friend in distress,
Who wants his draft cashed, through my sweet friendliness,
And man with the check that he would have indorsed,
When you tackle me I will have you unhorsed.
And friend who is easy, go get you a sign,
And put on your desk like this warning of mine,
'Twill save you, yes, many an odd five or ten,
That red sign of danger there: "NEVER AGAIN!"

MANUFACTURING PLANT COMES TO THE CITY

Glendale Manufacturing Company to Occupy Factory in Industrial Zone

As further evidence of the growth and development of Glendale as an industrial as well as a residential city, announcement is made of the opening of another manufacturing plant on the San Fernando road.

Within the last few days arrangements have been concluded whereby the Glendale Manufacturing company will occupy premises in what is known as the "industrial district."

The company, recently organized, has as its president William R. Brown of San Francisco, who for many years has been actively engaged in the manufacture and marketing of mechanical devices.

The company's secretary-treasurer is R. O. Gruwell Jr. who will be in charge of production. Mr. Gruwell is a mechanical engineer, with a long and varied experience in the design and manufacture of other types of water heating devices.

At the head of the mechanical department will be J. A. Gruwell, a brother of R. O., and until recently plumbing and heating supervisor to the Santa Fe railroad.

The department of sales is being organized by Collin Harris, late promotion manager of the Los Angeles Evening Express, a man of wide experience in selling and advertising.

The company will be engaged in the manufacture of the "Glendale" automatic storage and instantaneous water heaters, a newly patented device which is said to possess many exclusive features. The "Glendale" heater is equally suitable for domestic and industrial purposes, the various models in which it is made offer promising indication of a large demand for this modern-day necessity. Combining various patents that simplify or eliminate the many intricacies of most other heaters the "Glendale" will prove a big acquisition to any home, as well as a distinct source of satisfaction to the plumber making the installation. Every "Glendale" heater is sold under a broad guarantee, which is unconditional, and without time limit, insuring both plumber and householder against any defect in materials, workmanship, or proper operation.

From the standpoint of economy in both cost and operation, in its fine, artistic appearance, and its simplicity of construction the "Glendale" heater is without doubt superior to anything of its kind on the market today.

Mr. Brown states that he selected Glendale as the location for his plant after investigating almost every industrial site around Los Angeles, and already he and his business associates are as enthusiastic about Glendale environment as they are about Glendale heaters.
